SURVIVAL VALUES

Sometimes the old saws that we grow sick of hearing so often repeated contain truth that can hardly be better put, as for example the wellworn adage about foundations under air castles. A man sometimes advertises his greatest mental lack by claiming that there is at least one delinquency of which he never has been guilty, namely, that of building air castles. Those who do this he refers to as "Theorists," not stopping to think that somebody's "theory" was back of every ascertained fact and has built every machine that is working for us today. What splendid "theorists" formulated the constitution of the United States and the declaration of independence! Upon their theories has been erected one of the solid governments of the world.

The ideals of peace and justice among men and nations are regarded by shallow thinkers today as the ideals of "theorists." They are called "illusions" and "dreams." Not illusions but understanding is the psychic factor that explains the progress of evolution and of the race. Not because we are capable of being nobly deceived, but because we can see clearly, are we able to act greatly.

If the Americans are dreaming of peace and justice, it is because they see more clearly that peace and justice have what has been called by Matthew Arnold "survival value." Peace and justice are not illusions, but goals toward which hall life is struggling and tending. And life is tending thither, because peace and justice are the conditions best fitted for survival, for success. Nations most advanced in these respects supply the conditions needful for economic and other progress.

Peace and justice are not the mere cant phrases of hypocrisy or of weak sentimentality. They are the logical and efficient order of life. There is one law. It is universal. To comply with it is to succeed. Not to comply with it is to fail in some vital particulars.

The ideal government is one founded upon the intelligent popular will expressed in universal suffrage. The average of education must be so elevated that each voter must have a clear comprehension of his relation to civil government as one of the integral parts of it. He then will understand that what is best for all is best for him.

It was because the statesmen of ancient Rome could see largely, because they were free from most illusions, that they were able to give peace and justice to their empire, to their provinces. It was because their plans of empire corresponded to a great fact that they grew into reality and that a world order was established containing much of justice and peace.

If we are nearing such a world order, or better, in our time, we may well believe that the clear thinkers, those whose personal perspective is subordinated to the larger perspective, those nearest to the eternal viewpoint of justice and peace are going to play the largest part in bringing it about.

The test of truth is efficiency. Injustice and human will in the long run have never worked well. Justice and peace have always worked well. We do have illusions, but nature selects from them those that have the largest measure of truth, and eliminates from them those that contain the less truth. Truth is the permanent ingredient, the constant factor. Why then should anyone seek to endow illusion? It cannot last and it cannot work permanent good to the world.

WHEN ENGLAND DESPAIRS

The British parliament is still asking the government embarrassing questions regarding the conduct of the war, and the government invariably replies, "we are hoping to do better in the future."

One of the most admirable things in British character is that does not deny failures and rarly ever attempts to excuse them. Charges of incompetency in the conduct of the war have been made bluntly by the British press and as frankly admitted by the Asquith ministry. But the question comes up over and over again, What would be gained by changing these men for others who might not do as well and who certainly would hardly do better?

England is never so dangerous as when she feels herself "up against it." Then it is time for her opponents to beware. Today England is in a most pessimistic mood. Money is running low and higher and more searching taxes must be levied. The draft, as provided for by the last session of the parliament, added to the volunteers, will not provide enough men for the "far flung battle line" of the empire. The most strenous efforts of the blockade to strangle Germany have not succeded and are not succeeding. The people are taking a gloomy view.

Events may or may not justify the mood; but whether they do or not will not effect the fact that England has at last become dangerous to her foes. You may read this truth in her history. What elation does for other peoples, depression does for the English.

When other nations despair, they are thereby hurt. When England despairs, she rouses, she extends herself.

The difference in the psychological make-up of France and of England is attested by the endeavor of the French leaders to keep the nation in heart, whereas the wise doctors of England try to plunge her into gloom. It is only then that the British believe they have to do something desperate, and they proceed to do it.

But even with the monstrously long list of casualties and disastrous failures on the Gallipoli peninsula and in Mesopotamia it is doubtful if the British people would have been aroused even yet had not they been aroused by the Germans themselves. The raids on the British coast by the German fleet, the dropping of bombs on London and on the coast cities, the sinking of the Lusitania and the execution of Miss Cavell—it took all of these things to get the British people actually interested.

Mighty few of us want to get all we know should be coming to us.

That Brandeis investigation has spread out so lawyers have had to be hired on both sides to direct it.

Not everybody would be surprised should Japan become impatient with China and take over its government.

Canada's also finding the war burden heavy—its parliament has been asked to come across with $250,000,000 more.

Champ Clark never said anything truer than that "no country is worthy to endure that will not protect its citizens wherever they may be."

Submarines are also coming—the lowest bid for two was $1,491,000 each.

NOTES FROM THE PLAYHOUSES

PANTAGES THEATRE (Oakland)

Florence Bain fair musical comedy star, has invented something new, the "Form Concealing Corset." Are you too stout? The new corset will hide it! Too thin? The new corset won't let it show! It's the cure for every form of unfashionable contour, corrects every mistake nature ever made in not making lovely woman fit the modes, in other words, it will give the fair wearer a new form for every change in the fashion.

And it's easy to wear; it doesn't have to be laced tight or padded to do it.

Dressmakers have always thought that a perfect form was a matter of dimensions," she said, "and that is where their mistake came. The statue of liberty is a hundred feet or more high—and is perfectly formed. It's all in forming that you have—or what you haven't."

Miss Bain's invention is not for sale, and is not on the market, but she declares that she will be glad to describe it to any woman writing her at the Oakland Pantages, where she is appearing this week. "It is a labor of love for my downtrodden sex," she declares. Miss Bain is famed as one of the most physically perfect women on the American stage today, as well as a comedienne of note.

ORPHEUM THEATRE (Oakland)

Lovers of superb vaudeville will be treated to a really remarkable show at the Oakland Orpheum this week. Every feature will be new, for there are no hold overs at the Orpheum this season. Two splendid head line acts will grace the program, one being the famous Broadway star, Dorothy Jardon in a series of character songs and the other being a play that has proven the sensation of eastern vaudeville this season entitled "The Passion Play of Washington Square." There will be six other features of high class including a magnificient Fox screen play entitled "Fighting Blood" with William Franum as the star of the production.

The "picture fans" of Oakland have all discovered that the Fox screen plays at the Orpheum are the greatest films in the world, each one an hour in length and each one shown for the first time in Oakland at the Orpheum. The "picture fans" who adore Theda Bara and Wilma Franum and other Fox stars have heard that "Fighting Blood" is superior even to "The Spoilers" and this feature alone would be sufficient to pack the theater with film devotees.

It will be a really remarkable show at the Oakland Orpheum next week.

Dorothy Jardon is not only one of the best voiced prima donnas in vaudeville and musical comedy, but one of the finest appearing. Simply to gaze at Miss Jardon is a treat. She is not only a handsome woman, but is invariably gowned in exquisite good taste. Her voice is of the best quality and is as mellow as rare old wine.

"The Passion Play of Washington" will prove to be a sensation. It is the finest dramatic offering in vaudeville—a surprise.

The cast of the play is surprisingly good. Mary Serves is at the head of the company, which contains all well known players. Miss Serves has gained distinction with such success as "The City, "The Wolf," with the Little Theater in Philadelphia and the Fne Arts theater, Chicago.

Something different in ventriloquial acts will be offered by Hugh McCormack and Grace Wallace, the Australian ventriloquial duo. They offer a sketch entitled "The Theatrical Agent." The scene shows a number of figures sitting around on the bench as actors and actresses looking for work and the office force. The singing and comedy dialogue of the figures is bright and entertaining.

Probably other gymnasts have equalled the Mirano brothers in daring, but it is quite positive that none have executed feats that are more hazardous. These two men do not perform a routine that with the exception of their final is more or less conventional, but throughout their entire performance, each one of their efforts borders on the sensational, and one feat is executed immediately after the other without the slightest hesitation or stalling. The Mirano brothers may safely be referred to as a very exceptional team of acrobats.

Their apparatus is made to resemple the famous Eifel Tower and their perch is its apex.

Not only do the Kitamura Japs surpass in athletic skill any of their countrymen who have yet visited America, but their scenic and costuming embellishment is the very last word in Oriental splendor.

Corelli and Gillette show as much brains in their comedy work as they do control of muscle in their acrobatic evolutions. With "the odd pair," as they bill themselves,—it is silence and fun with one exception—the burlesque attempt to recite "Gunga Din."

BABY BOOKS FOR BABY WEEK AT LIBRARY

The week of March 4-11 has been set aside as nation-wide baby week. "The purpose of a baby week in a community is primarily educational. It is two fold: First, to give the parents or a community an opportunity of learning the facts with regard to the care of their babies, and second, to bring home to everyone in a community the importance of babies, the facts in relation to the babies of the especial community and the need of permanent work for their welfare."

To aid somewhat in this movement among the woman's clubs and other organizations taking up the subject on their programs, the library has gathered a number of books on the subject and has compiled the following brief list:

Brown, D. R., The Baby.

Clock, R. O., Our Baby.

Holt, L. E., Care and Feeding of Children.

Hutchinson, W., We and Our Children.

Newton, A. B., Mother and baby.

Richardson, A. S., Better Babies and Their Care.

Smith, R. M., Baby's First two Years.

Terman, L. M., Hygiene of the Child.

Tracy, M., Painless childbirth.

Wheeler, W., Before the Baby Comes.

Wheeler, M., Plain Hints for Busy Mothers.

Wheeler, M., Young Mother's Handbook.

Williams, H. S., Twilight Sleep.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

LESSON IN MOVIE PLAY

At the Regent theater on Friday and Saturday, March 3rd and 4th, the greatest film play ever produced will be shown. Once in a generation or so a book finds its way into history. Once in a decade the populace of a world power is stirred. "The Battle Cry of Peace" an inspired revelation written by J. Stuart Blackton shows America's defencelessness.

You see the most beautiful sky line in the world in flames.

The metropolis of the western hemisphere devastated.

The fall of New York.

The enemy approaching.

The defeat of the meager American forces.

The landing of the invaders.

Our forts destroyed.

Our fleet beaten in battle.

But, with it all is a heart interest drama so vivid, so real, so touching that it makes a lump rise in your throat and makes your heart pulsate fast. This is "The Battle Cry of Peace."

YOUR NEIGHBOR IS WEARING HER NEW SPRING CLOTHES

—Because SHE used her Credit.

If you should ask her where she bought her new suit or dress, she'd doubtless tell you "CHERRY'S."

Perhaps it never occurred to you that clothes of real class and character could be bought on INSTALLMENT PAYMENTS.

But they CAN be at CHERRY'S The newest spring fashions are at their best and most alluring in CHERRY'S gorgeous, big displays.

The spring suits are dashing—full, flaring, with belts and pockets of all kinds, smartly trimmed. Cherry's new dresses are the prettiest things in years, and if you're interested in sport clothes, you'll like the new suits and coats of light-hued corduroy.

Tuck whatever spare dollars you may have into your purse and come down town tomorrow to CHERRY'S. It's between Washington and Clay sts., at 515 13th, and the whole store is devoted to ladies' goods only, but just across the street at 528 13th is the men's store, and here you will find as fine a line of up-to-the-minute clothing as any store in the city. CHERRY'S also have two stories in San Francisco, one at 1009 Market street and the other at 2400 Mission street. These stores handle both ladies and men's goods. Other stores—Portland, Los Angeles nad Sacramento.—Advt.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache; no hawking, snuffing, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

It is just what every cold and catarrh suffered needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable.

MAY PROVE FATAL

When Will Richmond People Learn the Importance of It?

Backache is only a simple thing at first;

But if you find 'tis from the kidneys;

That serious kidney troubles may follow;

That dropsy or Bright's disease may be the fatal end,

You will be glad to know the following experience.

'Tis the statement of a Richmond citizen.

Philomena M. Brier, 511 Ninth St., Richmond, says: "Dropsy, which was shown by swellings of my limbs, shortness of breath and fluttering of my heart was my most serious trouble. I suffered from severe attacks of backache, my head ached often and I had dizzy spells and a tired, worn-out feeling. Since I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, I have used them whenever these attacks have come on me and in a short time they have fixed me up all right."

Price 50¢, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Philomena Brier had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. —Advt.

Tomorrow evening L. Nosko will meet L. Kitchen while H. Finashell will oppose L. Gardella.

Electric light in factories provides better working conditions. Employes are able to turn out more and better work; accidents are minimized; spoilage is reduced.

Electric Light Helps Both Factory Owner and Employe

That factory owners reap a real, tangible profit from better working conditions for employes has been proved in thousands of factories. Plenty of brilliant, white light, such as is furnished by Mazda "C" lamps, makes for rapid and accurate work. The cost of installing is most reasonable. Let us give you a figure today.

RICHMOND'S PRETTIEST GIRLS TO ENTER BASEBALL FUND CONTEST

At a meeting held this morning, baseball enthusiasts began steps for the inauguration of a most popular young women contest for the purpose of raising funds for the new $1500 grandstand at the First street baseball park.

It is proposed to conduct the contest along the lines of an election. Votes will be sold at one cent each. Five girls of the city will be selected to lead the big parade and celebration to be held with the opening of the baseball season March 19th.

"William Luce, in his capacity of manager of the Richmond Elks baseball team has given to Richmond thousands of dollars of advertisings," said one of the fans at the meeting. "It is therefore only fair to Mr. Luce as well as the city that individuals be allowed to contribute to the fund. This is no charity affair. It will allow hundreds of citizens who otherwise would refrain from assisting, to become interested in erecting our grandstand.

Nominations will be received at this office or any of the local newspapers.

Everyone desires to be "in on the ground floor." Here is your big opportunity. Richmond will now have the best baseball accommodations of any city in the state. Don't you want to be able to tell your friends that you aided in building that grandstand?

If you are a rear booster for the city; if you have red blood coursing through your veins; if you appreciate the great baseball club which Luce has built up for Richmond, then you will prepare immediately to support some entrant in this contest.

Remember that this contest is for individuals only.

Merchants are not eligible to purchase votes from contestants. That would eliminate all of the sport out of the contest. Practically every merchant of the city has agreed to contribute a sum of money. Now it is up to the individuals to do their part.

Now let's make this contest the biggest success possible.

Worth Careful Thought

Do you read the label to know whether your baking powder is made from cream of tartar or, on the other hand, from alum or phosphate?

Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes, and adds to the food only wholesome qualities.

Other baking powders contain alum or phosphate, both of mineral origin, and used as substitutes for cream of tartar because of their cheapness.

Never sacrifice quality and healthfulness for low price.
